

Chris LaCaille

Front-End Developer

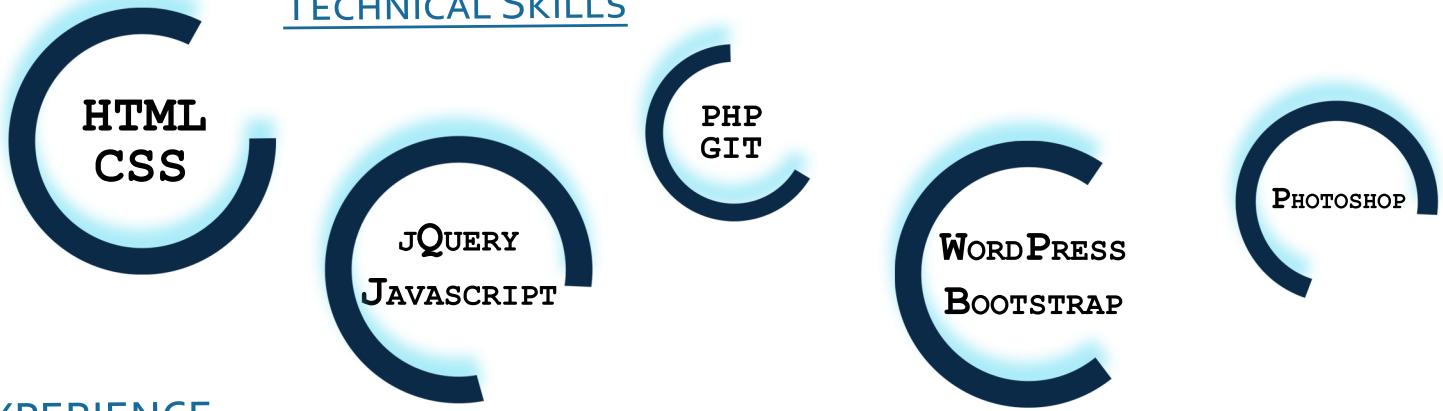

OBJECTIVE

Self-motivated developer seeking entry level position at a reputable company to produce interactive websites, high-quality design, and engaging user experience through coding abilities.

ABOUT

Talented and passionate web designer/developer looking to work with like-minded and creative individuals who share my passion for web creation. I pride myself in being reliable, possessing a strong work ethic and proficient in a wide range of web technologies that I can implement to be more efficient and increase workflow. I sincerely enjoy pushing my own personal limits in all my creative endeavors and turning complex problems into something beautiful and intuitive.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

EXPERIENCE

Lead Developer (03/2016 - current) Deaf And HoH (non-profit) - I am currently converting the deafandhoh static site to WordPress. This project has given me experience with the inner workings of WordPress through creating template pages/posts with PHP and Wordpress' custom functions.

Lead Developer/Designer (12/2015 - 01/2016) Central Concrete Creations - This was my first website I built for a client. CCCreations is a concrete contractor who wanted a simple page so I took it on as my first client project with the popular framework Bootstrap.
